Market commentary
The global listed infrastructure sector increased over August in USD terms, with the reference index* returning 0.31% in USD terms. Global equities had a positive month, up 6.68% in USD terms in August.
The US 10-year bond yield climbed in August from its lowest monthly close in July, to finish the month at 0.71%.
The USD was weaker across the board, providing a boost to Fund performance.

Fund commentary
The Fund currently holds 31 global infrastructure stocks and returned -0.87% in USD terms for August, underperforming the reference index by 1.19%. Over 12 months, the Fund remains ahead of the reference index by 0.84%.
The airport subsector had a strong month in August. Fund holdings Flughafen Zuerich and Fraport were up 18% and 16% respectively in local currency terms. This strong performance follows both companies reporting results in August. Whilst first half results were understandably weak following severe COVID-related travel restrictions, investors took comfort from a continued improvement in passenger numbers month-on-month as some of these restrictions eased.
French company Vinci was up 8% in local currency terms, one stock that we increased during the COVID downturn. The rise was due to a solid first half result being reported in August with no earnings surprises, despite the significant COVID-related impact on company operations.
After a strong prior month, North American regulated utilities underperformed the infrastructure sector in August. Fund holdings NiSource, Atmos Energy Corp and American Electric Power were down 5% to 9% in local currency terms. US Treasury yields increased during August and generally there was a focus on growth equities in US markets. Neither of these investor themes benefit regulated utilities which are traditionally seen as reliable and defensive stocks with clear earnings predictions and accordingly remain relatively out of favour against this backdrop.
